
Research Interests

My research interests focus on the relationship between leadership styles and employee and firm performance, and the global context to which different leadership styles suit different working cultures. I'm also interested in the cultural dynamics of cross-cultural communication and negotiation.

Education

University of Missouri • Columbia • Missouri

Doctor of Philosophy in Business Administration

May 2026 (Expected)

Concentration in Management

University of Hertfordshire • Hatfield • United Kingdom

Master of Science in International Business

Graduated with Distinction, Oct 2021

Thesis: The Role of Blockchain Technology in Transforming Global Supply Chains

Capilano University • North Vancouver • British Columbia

Graduate Diploma in International Management

Graduated with Distinction, Oct 2021

Capilano University • North Vancouver • British Columbia

Bachelor of Business Administration

Graduated with Distinction, May 2020

Concentration in Marketing and International Business & Logistics

Academic Employment

University of Missouri | Robert J. Trulaske, Sr. College of Business

Aug 2022 - Present

Graduate Research Assistant

Awards and Honors

Trulaske College of Business Ph.D. Scholarship

Mar 2022

Strategic Priority Scholarship

Mar 2022

CapU Cares Student Award

Oct 2020

Professional Experience

International Business Association (IBA), Capilano University • North Vancouver • British Columbia Director of Marketing	Sept 2019 – May 2020
CapU Works, Capilano University • North Vancouver • British Columbia Student Organizer	Jun 2019 – May 2020
Co-operative Housing Federation of BC • Vancouver • British Columbia Marketing Coordinator	Sept 2016 - Dec 2017

Certifications

HubSpot Academy Inbound Marketing	May 2022
University of Hertfordshire Business Communications	Jul 2021
Google Skillshop Google Ads Search	Nov 2020